
Three Negro Students To Graduate In June; All Active On Campus

This commencement will graduate three of Bucknell's Negro students, Jeanette Bolig, Myra Hammond and Charles Hammond, all of whom have been especially active in campus activities.

According to Dr. Karraker, colored students have attended here for a number of years but have been in residence only during the last four years.

Jeanette is the third Bucknellian in her family, her father graduated from here in 1929 and is now a college professor and her uncle, who graduated in 1913, is now pastor of the largest Negro church in Norfolk.
